Join us for the 2017 Fox Valley Winter Landowner Conference at La Sure's Banquet Hall. We've got a full lineup of excellent speakers, ready to share with you. We'll kick things off with a forest health update from our favorite forest health specialist and then move into updates on several ongoing deer studies that are helping shape deer management across the state. After a break we'll change pace and get estate planning advice from a local attorney well versed in working with woodland owners. Invasive species are a regular feature on our agenda and this year we'll focus on using pesticides safely and smartly in our battle against the invaders. We'll wrap up our day with an update on the many changes in the MFL program. Important information for all...whether you're an MFL participant or not.

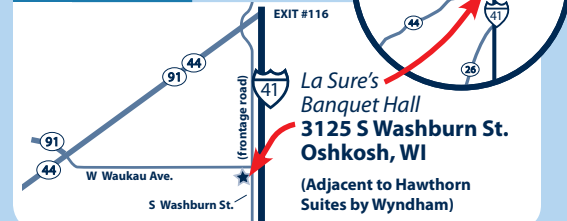

We've got a great lineup of speakers and topics that we're sure will give you new information as we head into 2017. Join us and bring a friend. We'll once again kick off the day with a hot breakfast buffet so come early and come hungry! We're looking forward to seeing you in February!

The 2017 Conference Planning Committee: Tom Vanden Elzen, Marcia Frost-Vahradian, Scott Sullivan, Marlene Zdanovec, Kim Miller, and Chad Cook
